I am sure FLO will take long strides towards achieving its objectives of socio-economic empowerment of women across borders and nationalities.

I wish the Organisation every success in its endeavours!

Message from the President

Dear friends,

When the suggestion was made that I should agree to be the President of FLO I thought the idea was unthinkable. I could hardly see myself as a leader of the women's section of a chamber of commerce. As member of FLO for over 18 years I was aware of all its activities, I was close to many of the members but I never visualised myself as the leader of the group. I was persuaded by some of my close friends into accepting this role as a challenge. The proposal was all the more daunting as this was the Silver Jubilee year. I agreed on the condition that the friends that were convincing me, will support me in all the activities that are initiated.

And what an eventful year it has been! I can hardly believe that one year has gone by. It seems it was only yesterday that we flagged off the Silver Jubilee year. One activity rolled on to the next. Before one event was over we were preparing for the next. But did I enjoy it? Every minute of it! The best and the most inspiring part of it all was to see the total support extended by the members, the governing body and the past presidents in the activities planned for the year. The creative ideas of so many members helped make for me a memorable Silver Jubilee year, more memorable. I am proud to be the member of such a wonderful family.

A draft sketch of a year long Silver Jubilee programme soon became an obsession not just with me but with members across the state chapters. It was heartening to see chapters take on responsibilities on their own. Whether it was the tree plantation campaign, campaign for the girl child or adopt a village programme, their support was unanimous. Volunteers for the Mentor-Mentee were eager to help as many as possible.

At FLO women's empowerment is a mission. We are overjoyed to see so many women across the country getting empowered through our training camps. Many of the training programmes were possible because of sponsors like Hanns Seidel Foundation (HSF) and Asian Development Bank (ADB). It is heartening to see the impact of such programmes effecting the lives of craftsmen in remote villages also.

At a personal level, this has been one of the most educational years of my life. Dynamic speakers and discussions at the panel discussions enlightened everyone with newer paradigms on almost all topics that touch the core of every business and our society. The discussions brought out the genius of the participants in topics as diverse as the Retail sector, Infrastructure, Money managing, Art, Economy, Environment and Emerging challenges even as global economies hovered close to recession.

ANURADHA GOEL
President

The cohesive strength of FLO as a federation was displayed at the largest ever Inter-state in the history of FLO. At a national level, the Posts and Telegraph department honoured the Silver Jubilee year of FLO with the release of a First Day Cover. At an international level too FLO had its share of recognition when the Mayor of Newark declared September 16th as India Day in Newark, USA.

To promote global entrepreneurship and networking among women, FLO has both hosted and sent delegations. The leadership at SAARC-SCWEC, CACCI-SWEC, and the success of the IWEC Award 2009 is only the beginning of FLO's growing prowess at the global level. The FLO/ Swedish Organisation sponsored Swedish Entrepreneur Exchange Programme is another step towards increasing FLO's presence in the international circuit.

Looking back at the end of this Silver Jubilee year I am happy that I see farther ahead than I thought possible at the beginning. With the leadership skills available with FLO members, the dynamism and most important, the mutual support I see a far greater role for FLO in the national and international scene. The last one year has been one of the most turbulent in the history of global finance, yet there is an optimism that India will ride through these rough times on the robustness of our financial systems and the resilience of our markets to adapt. I see a pivotal role for FLO in shaping policies and activities that keeps up the vibrancy of not just Indian business but also India as a Nation.

As the year comes to a close all I can say is thank you everyone. Thank you my friends for taking me through this wonderful experience. Thank you, FLO Secretariat and FICCI for your unqualified support throughout the year. I wish my successor Kavitha Dutt Chitturi all the best in taking FLO to greater heights. The future is as daunting as it is exciting. Over to you now. Over to the future.

Warm regards,

Anuradha Goel

CACCI Women Entrepreneurs Council (CWEC)

Dear Friends,
Greetings!

We need to dream beyond what is possible. Everything we see today was a dream before it became a reality. To quote Preity Zinta one of India's famous female movie stars. "The journey of a thousand miles starts with a single step." Every day somewhere, some-how the ubiquitous glass ceiling is continuously being broken. Sometimes, the women who conquer unexpected challenges make headlines; often, they find themselves steering a course or cause with no acclaim or recognition.

In whichever manner, they still manage to change the way in which other more ordinary women think and act. There is no such thing as a glass ceiling Just look up and you will find a clear and open sky. The limitation is self made.

Let me share with you a simple story of a simple Santosini from a remote village of Orissa in eastern India. India is known for disaster stories of farmers. More often than not returns are very low. Farmers have to sell paddy at throwaway prices. Santosini was just a simple house- wife in just a similar poverty stricken situation. She chose to take her life in her hands because she believed she could make things happen. She had read about medicinal plants. She visited farms in other parts of India; all were doing what she also wanted to do. Now she was even more convinced about its workability. By investing INR 3 Lakhs in her 3.5 acres of land, she made a reasonable margin, thus encouraging her to take the next step forward. She had the wisdom to take on lease 15 acres of farmland belonging to other farmers and also had the courage to take a loan of INR 35 Lakhs from Andhra Bank. She seriously started the cultivation of a wide variety of medicinal plants. In the 1st year itself she repaid INR 20 Lakhs. She was comfortable and farsighted to use time tested organic- traditional fertilizers like cow dung neem and chicken wastes. Today she is a role model for other farmers and employs 50 persons. She is a true women entrepreneur and now has ventured into trading and consulting. We salute her entrepreneurial skill.

"Good things don't happen we have to make them happen." Listen to your heart and follow your dreams. Nokia's recent global online survey revealed "women are better at multitasking than men". We always knew that, not only are we better we are marvels at multitasking.

Today the world is asking all of you to give;
Your hands are soft yet capable;
Remember where you came from;
But never lose sight of where you are going.
Be modern and modest;
Fashionable yet family oriented;
Cling to your traditions lightly but never be afraid of change.
Today is ours, yours and mine.
I leave you with all this to think and act upon Till the next time.

MESSAGE

I am extremely delighted to know that FLO has reached its glorious achievements in the past 25 years and played an effective role in all round development towards the challenges and opportunities of women entrepreneurs in the wake of globalization and liberalization.

Women's greatest strength must come from within herself – her own courage of conviction, steely determination and tenacity of purpose. We are better half of the population. Society and the world at large can thus gain from the influx of our productivity. Let us show the world that we have commitment, competence and congruence to face new challenges.

I can without any hesitation say that we are all proud of FLO as it has truly emerged as an organization fulfilling every need of the Indian women.

On behalf of SAARC Chamber Women Entrepreneur Council (SCWEC), I would like to congratulate you whole heartedly for the excellent performance during your tenure as FLO President in spreading the message of the need for the empowerment of women as a force to reckon within modern India. FLO will reach greater heights in the years to come and the flag of this great organization flies high among its peers.

I wish you all the best.

which have the potential to turn a life around. Mr. Mustafa Mochhala, an independent consultant and trainer, held our attention for over 2 hours with his knowledge transfer and sharing of his valuable thoughts on “Effective Communication and Body

“Re-inventing yourself”

August 28, 2008

The Strength of a woman is elastic and not brittle; steady and not fickle; the strength of a woman is gentle and heartfelt; the strength of a woman is WOMAN HERSELF.

Dr. Rekha Shetty our speaker for the day epitomises this saying to the core. She is the first woman Past District Governor of the Rotary International District 3230. She is an author, an entrepreneur and an original thinker. The Managing Director of Farstar Distribution Network, a unique consultancy company devoted exclusively to innovation and creativity under the brand name Mindspower, she consults with major corporates on long term innovation initiatives that involve everyone from doorman to Chairman.

Her address provided us insights into the ways and means of “Re-inventing Ourselves”. Adding value is the key word of this vibrant person. She spelt out tips like accepting and loving oneself as we are which should be top priority in our life. We should always be in tune with nature and know our plus and minus points and work on them constructively.

“Moving Images”

September 23, 2008

The oxford dictionary lists the word “creativity” as...inventive and imaginative.

This is a fitting description of Mr. Krishnakant Mishra, our young, talented and vibrant speaker. He is the Creative Director, Imageworks India Artists. His works like Spiderman 3, The Lord of the Rings: Return of the King, I am Legend and Hancock is proof of his talent and speak for themselves.

The popularity these films received were exorbitant and he has served as visual effects supervisor on more than 35 such films.

“Making crystal clear expression” reads as his motto. His presentation transported us into a world of surrealism. Through his films, he has made the oxymoron “virtual reality” into real reality and has made “excellence” not just an act but a habit. “ABHAY” won him the National Award for Best Visual Effects in a Motion Picture in 2002 and he received the same from President Mr. Abdul Kalam.

FLO COIMBATORE

I am happy to have worked under the mentoring of President Anuradha Goel, who has guided the Coimbatore chapter and with whose support and help we have done well the past year. I also look forward to working with the new President, Ms Kavitha Chitturi as I am continuing as Chapter Chairperson for another year as no other member is prepared to take up the role of Chairperson. With the difficult financial year ahead for India and the whole world, it will be a challenge for all of us in our respective businesses. I am sure the networking and support of FLO would help us overcome the difficulties and cope in a better way. Let me tell you a bit on what we are doing in Coimbatore. Coimbatore Chapter is still rather small with a membership of 43 members. The chapter which was in the clutches of being shut down was revived under the guidance of Kiran Gera who visited us and put an able team to head the chapter. For the last 2 years, with the cooperation of the members we have been able to adopt a village- Anupatti, have a fund raising- cooking show and had a few entrepreneurial talks. The breast cancer awareness programme has also been covered very well in the neighboring villages. The following year would focus on continuing the village adoption programme, fund raising and having entrepreneurial talks which would help us focus on the difficult financial year ahead.

Thank you!

NURTURING LEADERSHIP AMONG WOMEN

FLO JAIPUR

A New Day passes. The last year has been one of transitions and tumultuous changes. Huge corrections have taken place and the world has faced all kinds of crisis. The world has seen great acts of bravery from Indians. We at FLO Jaipur have had the calm and strong support of Mrs. Anuradha Goel, the President and Shipra Chatterjee, the Executive Director of FLO.

The Largest Delegation in the history of FLO, Seven Past Presidents and Majority of the Governing Body, it was our pleasure and privilege to host THE MEET of the Silver Jubilee Celebrations. The challenge for such a young chapter to host the Silver Jubilee Interstate Meet was very exciting and it was such a grand success, only because of the unstinting hard work of all the members. I am happy that it fulfilled the purpose of greater connectivity and bonding of all the Chapters and their members.

I have been fortunate indeed to have the unconditional support of my entire Board and the Founder Chairperson Ms. Neeta Boochra. I look forward to my team achieving a lot more in this coming year. The 21st century is more complex. We must uphold and hold firm to core values. There is no scope for stale thinking anymore, because the world as we knew it is, no longer exists. We live in a revolutionary world. Transformational change is the need of the hour. It is a massive transition period for the Indian economy. Global economy should not leave us behind. Sustainable growth is the only way to economic progress. Climate change is a challenge that can be turned into opportunity. Let us not leave a Carbon Footprint but a Legacy of opportunity of a better life for our coming generations. Unburdened by the past we must open our minds and hearts. Provide assistance to those in need. Not just charity but faith in common prosperity. This- WOMEN EMPOWERMENT, is also the goal of FLO. To usher in a new era of responsibility, substantial efforts are required. Our generation cannot afford to take it easy. Closer ties with our parent body FICCI should be forged. The views, analysis and work done by FLO can indeed change the future of womanhood in our country and abroad, if we focus on long term programmes. I appeal to all FLO members from Jaipur and the country to join hands and come forward as Active participants in the coming year.

long-term view thus he is also referred as the Warren Buffet of India.

- Cut losses and move on with life. Hold on to winning stocks till their business has achieved its full potential. Rakesh believes in doing his own research before investing.
- Be happy with your gains but learn to accept losses with a smile
- Study the markets thoroughly. Refer to history There have been many a bull and bear markets but in the long-term, the market is always moving upwards
- Patience may be tested but your conviction will be rewarded.
- Markets cannot be taught, they have to be learnt. Be an optimist and invest in a business and not a company to maximize profits & minimise losses.

FLO KOLKATA

Believing is everything. If there's belief and conviction in whatever you do, half of the battle is won.

We at FLO believe in "Power to Empower"; to empower millions of women around the country have the power to lead a best possible life. Apart from promoting entrepreneurship & professional excellence, this year we endeavoured to spread knowledge and pass on information about various outlook of life that each day and everyday touch the life of a modern, Indian, emancipated woman.

From EDP for the remote village women to academics and child psychology, from Lifestyle to Corporate grooming, from encouraging creative aspirations to usher in national & International level of cultural activities, from Genetics to Kargil, from Organising International event like Fortune Seminar on business to health check ups for Police women, from Presidential Election to law, and above all saluting the womanhood by awarding 11 Women Achievers Of Kolkata; this year we really touched myriad aspects and activities. And needless to say all these led to an action-packed tenure. I sincerely feel from my heart, that all these have been possible only because of the dynamic team I had, which continued to boost up my morale even at the darkest moment.

A special thanks to Ms Sashi Prabha Jalan, our past Chairperson, who always stood beside me as a pillar of support. I would also like to thank Ms Niharika Agarwal for being just a phone call away and taking rigorous initiative to make the fellowship meet, "The Bollywood Nite", a great success. The first hand account of the day to day happenings of the Kargil War from the Commanding Officer of the

1/1 Gorkha Rifles; which took the responsibility of evacuating the entire area which the enemy had captured for months; was simply awe striking. The story of the extreme situations which the young brigade had to pass through, the story of their determination, grit & raw courage they showed in those fierce battles on the formidable heights of Khalubar Pass with the enemy posted in the superior and advantageous position made the entire audience sit straight. The account of the most painful deaths brought tears rolling down from their eyes. The Power Point presentation describing the "why's of Kargil war", the map of the whole area, the snaps of the arms and amunitions used and some footage from the battle zone was really enriching. Both the sessions got standing ovations from the audience and the students actually went up to the dais to shake hands with the Colonel, who despite grave bullet and splinter injuries on the legs and bleeding profusely, led his men from the front to success. He had been conferred VIR CHAKRA, by the President of India; and his battalion was awarded Chief Of Army Staff, Unit Citation and the title 'BRAVEST OF THE BRAVE' for its sterling successes during Operation VIJAY.

hilarious and occasionally sad but typical Indian contradictions, idiosyncrasies, joy, hope and aspirations are revealed with insightful humour and shine glowingly through it all. Parchment Craft

January 5, 2009

On 5th January, 2009 FLO Kolkata has organised for a demonstration programme on the once extinct and recently revived form of craft, Parchment Craft. The craft form of making "lace on paper" is mainly reinvented in Holland and eventually gained popularity in other parts of Europe, Latin America and now Asia by Pergamano International.

Historians believe that parchment craft originated as an art form in Europe during the 15th or 16th century. At that time it occurred principally in Catholic communities, where crafts persons created lace-like items such as devotional pictures and communion cards. To soak in some knowledge about this beautiful art FLO Kolkata had invited Gaurangi Agarwal, a fine arts topper at the state level, and the first registered Pergamano teacher in Kolkata, Uma Agarwal, one of the pioneers in bringing the Parchment Art form in Kolkata, and Kannu Murugappan, one of the first registered Pergamano teachers in

Past Life Regression Workshop

January 17-18, 2009

Reincarnation and Past-Life-Regression are not modern concepts. People have believed in reincarnation since ancient times. Past life regression is mentioned in the Upanishads of ancient India, but is discussed in greater detail in the Yoga Sutras of Patañjali. Since prehistoric times, there have been numerous techniques used to explore past lives. There is sufficient evidence to show that the Hindus, Ancient Celts, the Egyptians, The Tibetans and the Hebrew Cabalists etc. used past-life remembrance.

FLO Kolkata Chapter organized a workshop on "Past-Life-Regression & Spiritual Science", by the internationally acclaimed founder of Life Research Academy of Hyderabad, Dr. K. Newton MBBS, MD on 17th & 18th Jan, 2009 at The Park Hotel. Performance by Ramli Ibrahim and Sutra Dance Theatre

The Stage of Kolkata's G. D. Birla Sabhaghar was put on fire in an otherwise sunny and pleasant morning of 25th Jan, 2009 by the stunning performance of Malaysian dancer and choreographer, Ramli Ibrahim, and his Sutra Dance Group. One of Malaysia's most internationally acclaimed artists, Ramli, a muslim by religion, is an ardent practitioner of both Bharatanatyam and Odissi.

Ramli's creativity is an integrated experience transcending national, religious and racial boundaries. The group performed Vision of Forever which is an excellent Odissi production exemplifying works of the late Odissi pioneer Guru, Deba Prasad Das. The compositions unleash powerful tandava images from the Shaivite and Tantric tradition if compared to the more lasya and 'Krishna-based' repertoire of the more well known Odissi dance form we are used to. The poise, the postures, the control, and overall the expressions shown by Sutra's well-trained, talented and multi-racial dancers of Indian, Malay, Chinese and mixed parentage such as, January Low, Revathi, Shantona Bag, Rathimalar, Sivagamavalli, Tan Mei Mei, Geethika Shree and Guna endeared, captivated and enthralled the audiences. The internationally acclaimed, veteran Indian dancer, Ms Amala Shankar was the Chief Guest who got ecstatic and came to the stage despite severe physical problems to give her heartfelt blessings to Ramli and his troupe. The performance got a standing ovation from the mesmerized audience.

FLO NORTH EAST

Dear Friend,
It is with a deep sense of gratitude I write this to you. Exactly 18 months back, I was given the overwhelming opportunity to lead this beautiful endeavour called FLO and ensure the accomplishment of its objectives. Put simply, it has been a pleasure. A pleasure to join hands with such enterprising and committed women, a pleasure to delve in such great learning experiences and a pleasure to facilitate holistic growth for all. And for this, I am thankful to divine spirituality that has guided me on this path of self discovery. Abiding with motto of FLO “power to empower” we shared the power to empower. To encourage the idea further, we undertook various projects for women folk which brought about the transformation in terms of their personal and professional growth. Our “Weaving Programme” is an ambitious project, which is going to be a signature project for FLO in years to come. The object of this ambitious project is to make weaving of Assam popular all over India. We are trying to make all round development of out adopted village, “Kutting Pahar”. We are helping them in healthcare, education, vocational training and self employment. This will lead the young girls and women of the village to become self dependent.

Our last event on the 16th of December was a very memorable one. Honorable Minister for Commerce & Industry for the Govt. of Assam, Shri Pradyut Bordoloi who had inaugurated F L O North East Chapter; helped us in making our 1st Anniversary. What made it even more memorable was the presence of the FLO National President. FLO National Past President and the Incoming FLO National President and full Executive Board Members.

As the new leadership takes charge, it is perhaps a good opportunity to evoke in our minds the ethos of our organization and what it stands for. We should aspire to ensure its growth so that the wide-spread benefits are experienced by our members and the society at large.

I would like to express gratitude to our FLO National President Ms. Anuradha Goel, FLO National Past President Ms. Kiran Gera and President of FLO Kolkota Chapter Ms. Rajkumari Saharia and her entire team for their exceptional support and continued support. I am extremely, thankful to all my colleagues, office bearers and dear members for their participation and encouragement. I look forward to a great future for FLO in the years to come. Adoption of Village

In October, 2007 the committee members of FLO- North-East visited a small village near IIT-Guwahati to explore ways and means to adopt this village along with Rashtriya Gramin Vikas Nidhi (RGVN). The villagers are the displaced people from the land which went under IIT-Guwahati. The village was surrounded by water on all sides with no means of commuting.

FLO- North-East succeeded in adopting this village, namely Katting Pahar, and henceforth has become a pioneer in doing so. As the first step, Rs. 5000 was given to the villagers to build a culvert to connect them with the rest of the world. A total of 50 families residing in the village are benefitting from our project wherein we are imparting health and hygiene camps along with stress on education at the primary and mid-level. The students of IIT are also extending their help in the literacy programme. A vocational training with 15 boys and girls in stitching and leather works have been started together with NSIC.

YOUNG FLO DELHI

Every journey begins with a single step. It seems like just the other day when that step was taken. Five of us - younger members of FLO - were invited by the then President, Namitaji Gautam to set up Young FLO. And now YFLO is already 5 years old! From a fledgling to spreading its wings, YFLO has indeed come of age.

When I took over the baton of leadership from my predecessor Scema Jajodia, I was excited yet apprehensive about this journey which was to take me away from familiar shores to uncharted territories. As I set out on this voyage, I met and interacted with women from different fields, explored new avenues and gained fresh insights into a variety of subjects. It was a year full of challenges and triumphs, of meeting targets and deadlines, of learning but also of disappointment and frustration at times. I discovered certain strengths in me and hidden weaknesses. I would term my year at YFLO as a journey of self discovery. It helped me expand the frontiers of my mind, strengthened my heart and empowered my soul.

Our focus this year was to organize programs which would be enriching, interesting, relevant and topical for our members. We learnt from Deepika Mehta, at the workshop we organized, that there is a divine goddess, beautiful and powerful, within each of us. Coming face to face with personalities such as Abhinav Bindra and Nandita Das inspired me to think beyond... We see things that are and say why? Let's dream of things that never were and ask why not? We initiated a campaign, Citizens against Terror, after the Mumbai blasts which saw a lot of participation from our members. And explored the old world charm, mystique and glamour of royalty at an evening which the members from the royal families attended. Our final program, the Women's Achievers Awards was a tribute to womanhood especially to the many unsung and unknown heroines of India such as the women at the grassroots. They work tirelessly behind the scenes without adulation or applause and hence this was our attempt to give them their place in the sun.

As my tenure comes to an end, I thank FLO President Anuradha ji Goel for guiding me and advising me at each step of the way. I learnt from her the qualities of a great leader. She did not walk ahead of us or behind us, she walked beside each of us and held our hands so that we may reach our destination together. I owe my sincere gratitude to each of my committee members for their unstinting support and assistance. To Priyanka, the incoming chairperson, I hand over the reins with the confidence that she will do a great job at the helm of YFLO affairs. A big thankyou to Shipraji and the entire team at FLO for their whole hearted co operation during the past year.

It has indeed been an enriching and exciting experience for me and I thankyou all for giving me this wonderful opportunity. Here's looking forward to another year of achievements and activities at YFLO!!

HAS PAGE 3 BECOME AN OBSESSION?

Text by Shabnam Singhal (Committee Member YFLO)

July 31, 2008

An interesting debate on if Page 3 had become an obsession with socialites or not, was held with panelists like ad man Mr Suhel Seth, style icon Ms Feroze Gujral, MD of the Times Group Mr Vineet Jain, industrialist and politician Mr Navin Jindal and moderating the entire event was Mr Vikram Chandra CEO of NDTV. It couldn't help but captivate the attention of everyone present.

Mr Jain shared with us the success mantra of P3 and how he conceived the idea of carrying the life style of the glitterati from magazines to dailies.

The discussion took an interesting turn as the panelists expressed their views on the rationale and relevance of page 3 and the audience too came forward with their questions and opinions. Some of the celebrities present there said that they were very comfortable being a Page 3 while few others expressed their dejection for not being covered and were anxious to know the mantra to be seen on P3.

GODDESS WORKSHOP By Celebrity Yoga & Wellness Guru, Ms DEEPIKA MEHTA

Text by Abhilasha Aggarwal (Committee Member YFLO)

October 1, 2008

She shared her success secrets, which are a combination of Mantra and Tantra. Starting with some yoga, moving on to cardio, relaxing with a bit of meditation and of course teaching us an exotic form of belly ...she had us all captivated in high spirits. Losing weight and staying fit had never looked more effortless and fun.

This 'New Age Yogini' as she is called, introduced us to a hip brand of yoga which we learned is a demystified version of the centuries old art. The afternoon was a perfect mind body synthesis, especially in our times that are ridden with complex life style related maladies.

Deepika Mehta is a name synonymous with Aishwarya Rai Bachchan, Bipasha Basu and Yana Gupta. The lady who was responsible for sculpting Ash's body in Dhoom 2 came and conquered every YFLO member's heart. We realized there was more to her than some of Bollywood's hottest bodies.

WALL STREET TO MAIN STREET: Understanding and Surviving the Global Meltdown

A Talk by Mr Bishnu Dhanuka, Founder-Director, Millennium Mam's

Text By Meenal Gupta (Committee Member)

November 8, 2008

As international financial markets continue to tumble and national economies slip into recession, the fear of a global melt down has begun to haunt people everywhere. Analysts commenting on the phenomenon have drawn parallels with the Great Depression of the 1930's. The Indian economy too has witnessed testing times as a result of the massive collateral damage served by the global economic crisis. In this perspective, YFLO organized a talk on "Wall Street to Main Street: Understanding and Surviving the Global Meltdown" by Mr Bishnu Dhanuka, Founder-Director Millennium Mam's.

I must say I was really looking forward to hearing my Guru of Economic Knowledge Mr. Vishnu Dhanuka, who specialises in educating women on Economic and Stock Market matters. The word "Recession" now seeming like a household name!And true to his nature 'Dhanuka sir' gave us a realistic and grave picture of "Wall street to Main Street."

The talk primarily focused on the current global economic meltdown and its repercussions in India and also how to survive this grim situation of the world economy. It was followed by an interactive session, which witnessed active participation of the audience.

MY OLYMPIC JOURNEY: A Talk By Mr Abhinav Bindra Text by Vasvi Bharat Ram (Vice-chairperson YFLO)

November 19, 2008

It was an honour and privilege for us to welcome to YFLO, Mr. Abhinav Bindra, the man who put a smile on more than a billion faces by winning the first ever individual Gold Medal for India for Air Rifle Shooting in the Beijing

Olympic Games. His gentle, unassuming and shy demeanor clearly indicated that he has taken his success and adulation in his stride. Abhinav talked to us about all the trials and tribulations that he faced in his long journey, which started by playing competitive sports in India, which then led him to the Commonwealth Games and then finally the Olympics. He encouraged us to dream big, constantly raise our own bar, and not be satisfied with anything less than GOLD in all our respective fields. He stressed on the importance of handling internal-external pressures and keeping calm and composed in even the most challenging of circumstances by citing examples from his own life. He could not emphasize more on the value of hard work and taking every opportunity that comes ones way. This event was also thrown open to children who asked some of the most thought provoking questions.

When asked by a young boy if it was more important to study or play sports, without blinking an eyelid, he advised him to play. He said that as a nation we have been too academically driven and need to be more balanced to achieve our maximum potential. Abhinav Bindra's talk was most inspirational on a national as well as a personal level. He truly is India's "Shooting Star".

REAL TO REEL: A talk by Ms Nandita Das on her Journey from Actor to Director

Text By Minal Somany (Committee Member)

January 15, 2009

Nandita Das' talk that focused on the topic "From Reel to Real" dissolved the boundaries between fantasy and reality. She began with discussing her childhood and the importance of making choices from the very start. These choices she said have helped shape her and also influenced the characters she plays in her films. For her, films and what she does in her life are not very far apart. Her characters are often inspired by real people. Being a social activist she has observed and learnt from a multitude of realities, sometimes far removed from where she comes from. But all these realities have become a part of her and the causes she stands up for are very close to her heart. One such social and political issue, that clearly seems to have affected her, forms the basis of her directorial debut 'Firaaq'. In regards to Firaaq she talked not only about the sensitive issues regarding the 2002 Godhara communal riots between Hindus and Muslims but also about the challenges faced by a director. Managing people on the sets while making sure that the essence of the film is not diluted proves to be an uphill task, which Ms. Das seems to have enjoyed and learnt from. An interesting discussion that took place between a member of the censor board that raised issues with her film led to the yet unanswered question about when and how one can make the audience more discerning, and will this shift in attitude perhaps help bring more balance to volatile situations that we face today both socially and politically.

AN EVENING WITH ROYALTY

Text by Priyanka Agarwal (Sr Vice Chairperson)

February 25, 2009

A Royal rendezvous with the erstwhile panelists kept us all engaged and brought in a new found appreciation for them. When we thought about India's glorious past, the maharajas and their grandeur always caught our attention, but often we overlooked the huge responsibilities they shouldered so well. The discussions highlighted some of the noble past achievements of the panelists forefathers as well as introduced us all in the audience on the roles these royals have taken on in contemporary society. They are not just ordinary citizens in terms of their contribution to our nation- Tikka Shatrughit Singhji spoke on his passions of his interest and efforts in the area of preservation and upliftment of heritage properties, Yuvraj Vikramaditya Singhji also spoke about the great heritage preserved and run in the forms of hotels and how his royal passion of polo he opened out to civilians. We all know how Mr. Rathore has brought back the jodhpuris and the bandgalas in our wardrobes and made contemporary our heritage. Princess Vaishnavi a crafts reviver also shared with us her unique contribution to the nation by handling the renovation and conversion of the Durbar Hall of Jaipur to a museum. For their many contributions we were filled with a sense of gratitude and felt privileged to have glimpsed into the lives of the blue blooded!

THE FELLOWSHIP THAT CHANGED MY OUTLOOK

Text By Avantika Dalmia (Committee Member)

All of us were very perturbed after the Mumbai attacks on 26/11. The mix of the media, FLO, YFLO members and eminent personalities made the event very wholesome. The black bands all of us wore to pledge against terror bound us even further to the cause. The candid conversations and views discussed during the talk against terror set me thinking that it was about time we did something as citizens of this great nation. A few of us at YFLO fellowship session were very inspired by the session and embarked to join a movement against terror and criminals in politics.

HEALTHY EATING FOR URBAN LIVING

at the Nikko Metropolitan -

Text by Deepshikha Khaitan (Chairperson YFLO)

April 2, 2009

In today's hectic and fast paced world, health has become an all important issue, as people want to enjoy a better quality of life. With this in mind, YFLO organized a talk on Healthy Eating for Urban Living by Ms Seema Jajodia, founder of Nourish Organics and immediate past chairperson of YFLO and Ms Mona Shwartz, an expert on macrobiotic nutrition. What we all learnt was that to eat is a necessity but to eat intelligently is an art. Seema gave us a presentation on the right kinds of foods to eat and the benefits of various seeds and whole grains.

Ms Mona Shwartz spoke at length about the power of macrobiotics whether it be looking good, staying fit and healthy, calm and stress free all these could be achieved with the correct blend of organic, whole and healing foods.

We were served lunch at the venue, The Metropolitan Nikko Hotel which included different preparations of brown rice. We all relished the food which was healthy and yet at the same time delicious. We came back feeling inspired to lead healthier, fitter and better lives. For as they say, "As we nourish our bodies, so we nourish our minds."

Mind, Body & Soul Healing by Dr Rick Levy Text by Ms Promila Bahri (Committee Member)

April 8, 2009

Dr Rick Levy is a world renowned psychologist, author and a pioneer in mind body medicine. Most mind body methods tap only the power of the conscious mind which is the smallest part of the mind whereas Dr Levy taught us to access the subconscious and superconscious. This is where science meets spirituality; he showed us simple techniques which will empower us to master our destinies. The same methods that we use to cure our bodies can also be used to cure ill health that runs through any organization or business, relationship, marriages – in short our lives.

April 20, 2009

FICCI in Association with Thai Chamber of Commerce & Industry organized a Global Business Summit where in a special reference was made on Holistic Wellness & Hospitality. The Session was designed and headed by FLO and was supported by Hanns Seidel Foundation, Germany.

A growing emphasis on preventive and holistic healthcare has led to a boom in the fitness and wellness industry. Aerobics, yoga and fitness training, medical systems such as ayurveda and naturopathy, fitness therapy and nutrition are in the Developing Leadership Skill for Professional and Personal Effectiveness:

Jaipur - Sept 1, 2008

Colombo- September 26-27, 2008

February 23-24, 2009 Hyderabad)

Leadership is not simply a matter of style, or following some how-to guides or recipes. In-effectiveness of leaders seldom results from a lack of know-how or how-to, nor is it typically due to inadequate managerial skills. Leadership is even not about creating a great vision. It is about creating conditions under which all your followers can perform independently and effectively toward a common objective. Developing effective leadership skill is one of the key elements of a successful personal and professional life. Study on Bed & Breakfast Scheme : Entrepreneurship Project for Home

New Delhi- December 10, 2008

To carry forward FLO's initiatives towards women empowerment, FLO in collaboration with HSF had undertaken a study on Women & Craft in the Fashion Textile & Jewellery Clusters of Delhi. This study focused on building the capacity of woman artisans and to provide them with a system which will enable economic, social and design development of this craft and of woman artisans in the field of fashion.

The project components include Survey/ Study of the crafts for which adequate information is not yet available, such as the living and working conditions of woman artisans in this area, areas requiring special study for uplift of the woman artisans, prospects and future for these clusters, providing a mechanism for Developing & Protecting craft design heritage & knowledge base and market evaluation study of this craft for either domestic or overseas markets. Seeing the interest generated by the FLO/HSF workshop on the Bed and Breakfast Scheme (B & B) in the month of September, FLO & HSF decided to undertake a study on the project. A very comprehensive survey was carried out by Mr Inder Raj Ahluwalia , Travel/Aviation Writer & Consultant which details the requirements and the way to go about conducting a bed and breakfast project in the house. The primary objective of FLO was to promote entrepreneurship and professional excellence in women in particular and facilitate a better understanding of the subject in general.

In order to conduct any business successfully, one has to first of all understand it fully, and be aware of all its attributes and implications, both in the present and future. Just knowing the current scenario isn't enough. In the case of the B&B business, this is particularly relevant because much of the investment of money, time and energy to an entrepreneur will yield gains and profits over a period of time. This study provides information of all these and more.

As a follow up of the studies conducted, FLO will undertake at least 2 workshops each on the fashion as well as hospitality industry in the year 2009.

Concept and tools of Direct Marketing and Franchise

New Delhi : January 31, 2009

Direct Marketing is one of the most attractive propositions in the present business scenario. It is a sub-discipline and type of marketing. There are two main definite characteristics which distinguish it from other types of marketing. The first is that it attempts to send its messages directly to consumers, without the use of intervening media. This involves commercial communication (direct mail, e-mail, and telemarketing) with consumers or businesses, usually unsolicited. For direct marketing to be effective, it is important to understand basic direct marketing concepts. The workshop aimed at better understanding of the subject and providing solutions to questions such as -how do you build an effective direct marketing campaign? What are the components that make direct marketing effective and profitable? Besides these, it is also important to have a good knowledge about the concept of franchise, its advantages and disadvantages, franchise agreements, the legal formalities involved etc. An the workshop provided information about the same.

Big retailers no threat to 'mom & pop' stores

The fear of additional cost being added to traditional fuel efficiency programs has been a major barrier to the implementation of a comprehensive $100-billion program by 2025 as compared to the $50-billion program authorized by the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007.

The reliance of legislative action to achieve the goal is not to realize the traditional pathway. The idea is to compare and contrast the traditional pathway with the pathway without additional regulatory burden. The regulatory burden is not required to be added to the traditional pathway. Retail biggies to co-opt kirana stores

NEW DELHI: Retail biggies such as Reliance Retail, Sublika, Landmark, Fab India and Select Citywalk have said that they would co-opt small 'kirana' stores and upgrade their retail capabilities instead of competing with them.

"Traditional retail business was $330 billion in 2007 while modern retail was $1.3 billion. These are likely to grow to $530 billion and $1.30 billion, respectively, by 2015. There is, therefore, enough room for both large and small formats to co-exist in the Indian context," said Reliance Retail president and chief executive (lifestyle) Bijoy Khatun at a conference organised by FICCI Ladies Organisation (FLO) to address the scope of retail growth in India.

The panelists from the retail companies said that the challenge is not in replacing the traditional retailer but creating new roles and augmenting their capability so as to modernise the traditional supply chain.

Education is the real enabler. We just facilitate.

At SRF, we have always believed in the power of spreading knowledge through education and chosen it to be the way in which we give back to the community. Our education initiatives, under the aegis of SRF Foundation, have given three distinguished identities – "The Shriram School, SRF Vidyalaya and Shri Educare".

Educating thousands of youths from the have and have-not strata, SRF Foundation's education initiatives have evolved and introduced radical teaching methodologies that encourage learning by way of instilling a sense of values in a joyous environment.

It is gratifying for us to see young aspirations take wings in the communities we operate in – from the developed NCR region to remote corners like Bhiwadi (Rajasthan) and Manali (Tamil Nadu).

SRF FOUNDATION'S DIFFERENTIATOR:

- The Shriram Schools at Delhi and Gurgaon, through its Special Education Needs Programme, create opportunities for inclusive education and vocational orientation for "children with disabilities".
- SRF Vidyalaya at Manali (Tamil Nadu) employs TQM principles to develop teaching methods, for children from economically weaker section.
- Shri Educare is a dynamic knowledge hub that integrates innovative programmes in education.
